This guide organizes the Sidebar pages into three main categories: Core Exploration, Personalized Content, and Tools & Settings. This structure helps explain the app's powerful features simply.

1. Core Exploration (Finding Content)

These tools help you find the Good News you want to share or listen to.

Think of this page like a "Shopping Cart" for Sharing. As you browse the app, you can check the little boxes next to different messages across multiple languages. This page gathers all those checked items into one clean list. From here, you can easily copy the whole list, share it all at once, or print out QR code cards for those specific messages.

3. Offline Listening & Storage

These two pages work together closely. The Storage Management page is essentially a settings subpage for My Library.

My Library (Downloaded Messages)

This is where offline audio lives. When you tap "Download" on an audio track, it saves the file directly to your phone. Go to My Library when you are offline (like on a remote mountain or in airplane mode) to play the messages you've saved.

Storage Management

Storage Used: 0 items

No downloaded messages found

Install App for offline access and faster loading times!

Audio files take up space on a phone. This page lets you see how much space your downloads are using and gives you a quick way to delete old tracks to free up storage.

4. Advanced Tools & App Info

These are utility pages for interacting with the app itself.

A "Power User" tool. The app contains a curated list of messages, but GRN (Global Recordings Network) has thousands more on their website. If you find a unique Program ID on the GRN website that isn't in the app by default, you can type it in here to securely import it into the app for listening and sharing.

While the individual message pages let you share one specific audio track, this page is for sharing the actual App itself. It provides quick buttons to send the app link via Email, LINE, LinkTree, or the device's native sharing prompt so others can easily install it.

Tip for the Manual: When explaining the flow, it can be helpful to clarify the difference between Sharing a Message (done on the individual message page or the Selected Messages shopping cart) versus Sharing the App (done via the Share page).
